THE RIGHT MAN IN THE RIGHT PLACE

General Raum, the new pension commissioner, is reported to have sacrificed a law practice worth more than twice the salary he is to receive in his new office. He will have a fine chance to compensate himself for this loss, however, by ably conducting the duties that will fall to him. The pension commissionership is now one of the most important offices under the government, and the man who administers it as it should be administered will win for himself a reputation that will shine all the more luminously when contrasted with the recent history of the bureau It is greatly in General Raum's favor that, beside being a brave soldier he is a taciturn man.—Boston Herald.

This is a good endorsement of General Raum, especially because it comes it comes from an independent democratic paper. The Herald will not see the day when General Raum will lose the grip he now has on the opportunity to do the country a splendid service. Even that notorious mugwump paper, the New York Post, so full of bitterness towards all of Harrison's appointments, is forced to give some praise both to the president and the new commissioner. And then, that carefully edited paper the Philadelphia Ledger, which never tells a lie, and wouldn't if it could, speaks of General Raum in this wise:

"He is not only an able lawyer, but a man of excellent judgment and wide experience in the administration of public affairs. He is one of that class of men who don't believe that sentiment should be indulged when it runs counter to law. He is also one of those men who have the capacity to do their own thinking, the industry to perform their own work, the courage to adhere to their convictions, and the persistency to carry them out. There is one class of enterprising citizens with whom General Raum will not be popular, namely, the pension agents, particularly those who have heretofore been potential at the pension office. These gentlemen will find that Raum will be commissioner for the government and general agent for the soldiers, and that every thing will be done in accordance with the letter and the spirit of the law."

There is much for General Raum to do. There has been a good deal of mal administration touching the pension office. It has been run by cliques and favorities have had their hands very deep in the pension funds. If General Black was bad, Tanner was even worse. He did not seem to have any conscience in the business of re-rating pensions. It was so unwise, in fact to unsavory, that some whose conscience would not let them keep the ill-gotten gain, covered it into the treasury, while others were compelled to do so under penalty. If there is an office under the government that should be conducted ably and honestly it is the pension office. The millions under the control of the pension commissioner should be held as a sacred trust, to be paid to thos who deserve the aid from the government, and not to an undeserving class of persons on whom Tanner was wasting the pension money.

If General Raum can reconstruct the pension office, clean it out, and put honor and skill in its management, he will cover himself with honor, and bestow a priceless favor on the country.

Dr. Talmage asks "all Christendom" for aid in rebuilding his tabernacle. Just why he should do this we fail to see. There was an insurance on the building of about $125,000, but even if there was not a dollar we do not exactly comprehend what claim the wealthy Brooklyn congregation has on the country at large that it should draw money from the pockets of the people. Dr. Talmage says that he wants everybody who reads his sermons to give something. Well, the people who read his sermons do give something. They have been giving it for years. They pay for their newspapers and the newspapers pay Dr. Talmage, so we think he is rather inclined to impose on good nature in asking money for his church. As a matter of fact the request is one of the most monumental exhibitions of sublime gall that we have heard of.

There is some sense in the foregoing remarks from the Nashville American. Just why Mr. Talmage should attempt to make the whole country "hold up its hands" when he wants money to rebuild his tabernacle, cannot be clearly understood. In the first place, there was an insurance of $125,000 which of itself will build a magnificent church. In the second place, his society is rich. There are millionaires in it. There are those of lesser note financially, but who are with their tens of thousands. His membership are abundantly able to rebuild the tabernacle at any expense within reason—and even make it the most magnificient temple of worship in all the Union, and not feel the pressure. Why then beg of the country to contribute to the rebuilding?

It would be well for congress to pass a bill authorizing the commissioner of pensions to withhold 1 per cent of the amount appropriated to be paid out to the pensioners to be passed to the credit of the Grant monument fund. This would be the most expeditious and surest way of making the collections, and would save a great deal of unnecessary delay. By all means let the old soldiers build a monument to General Grant. He deserves this much at their hands. And besides, it will save the people of New York from an altogether unnecessary draft upon their resources.—Charleston News and Courier.

This is a little sneer from South Carolina, but foolish as it is, there is a point in it which New York may well consider with soberness. It is no doubt true that New York will never see the Grant monument unless the soldiers build it. As humiliating as this may seem, it is nevertheless true, but the fact cannot make the New Yorkers blush with shame. They do not seem to have any more regard for their pledges than the city has for decent politics.

There are some Southern papers that pretend to believe that no one but Mr Cleveland must be nominated by the democra's in '92. They also pretend to love him. But in opposition to this c mes a paragraph from the Albany T mes, one of the supporters of Cleveland in '84 and '88:

He (Lamont) and his late chief have become 'back numbers.' As well ask France to restore the Bourbons, as to attempt to force on New-York and New-Yorkers more Cleveland-Lamontism. In their lives they were unlovely, and are now politically dead beyond a resurrection.

There is not much love in this paragraph for those two worthies, but it seems to be the kind of love that is growing in New York, for the ex-democratic president.

"The democratic party," says R. Q. Mills, "is in better condition to-day than it was a year ago." This will be surprising news to the democrats throughout the country. It may possibly have the effect to cheer some of them. All the 'condition' in the democratic party seems to be in Mr. Cleveland, and one democratic writer says he is sluggish, silent, and morose.

The New York conference of Christian Endeavor Societies, now sitting at Saratoga, reports 600 societies, with 80,000 members. The united societies of all the states numbers 7,692, with an aggregate membership of 485,000. In 1881 there were only two societies, with sixty eight members.

There is a strong sermon in these few lines from the Pittsburg Dispatch:—"It seems to be pretty well settled that the country will have a new prayerbook in 1892. In the meantime a great deal of good may be obtained from a sincere and earnest study of the ideas contained in the old one."

There are some pretty good things in the constitutions of the Dakotas. One of them is that a legal verdict can be rendered by three-fourths of a jury. The Dakotas are already in advance of the states in a very important particular.

The Ohio State Journal:— "Governor Forsker will be out next week. For the first time in his life he had to get a substitute this week." This is a good whack at Mr. Cleveland.

NO RAILROAD TRUST.

Gould Says the Nature of the Business Makes a Pool Impracticable.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 25.—Jay Gould was interviewed here to-day and a morning paper to-morrow will contain two columns, covering a wide range of subjects, all, however, applicable to the railroad interests. The reporter put the position of a railroad trust point blank to Mr. Gould and received a positive and emphatic reply, which he reported as follows: "No; there will never be such a thing as a railroad trust. The nature of the business does not make such a thing possible and all talk of a pool or trust, including a combination of the principal railroads in the country is the sheerest nonsense."

THE EVIDENCE OPENED

EXAMINATION OF WITNESSES IN THE CRONIN CASE.

Counsel for the Prisoners Make No Opening Address—Proving the Identity of the Body.

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—When court opened Thursday morning the room of branch No. 3 was crowded. There was barely standing room within the rails.

After the list of the jurors had been called Judge Longenecker, in a manner extraordinarily impressive, began his opening address. He reminded the jurors of the trying ordeal of examination through which each of them had passed. "Whether you go from here after having opened the prison doors to these accused or after having voted the highest penalty, you can go forth secure in the belief that you have done your duty. You have said here that you would not convict these men unless the State proved its case, and you have declared that you will presume these men innocent until they are shown to be guilty, but the presumption is not evidence. When it is shown by conclusive proof that these men on trial are guilty, then that presumption is wiped away. You have no right to go digging around for doubts. The doubt must be reasonable."

JUDGE LONGENECKER.

"May I please the court," said Forrest, rising in his place, "I object to the State's attorney discussing these points in an opening. It belongs more directly to the closing.

"I think he is within bounds," said Judge McConnell.

Exception was taken and Judge Longenecker proceeded to define the murder of Dr. Cronin as the unlawful killing of the man with malace aforethought. "The material points to be proved," he said, "are: The killing of Dr. Cronin; the fact that the killing was done in this county and State; and third, that these defendants did the killing with malice aforethought. If we prove, as we claim to be able, that the doctor was killed, then it will not be questioned that it was murder and not manslaughter."

The state's attorney went on to define circumstantial evidence, upon which the prosecution exclusively relies. "Seeing a man holding a pistol at another man, seeing him pull the trigger, hearing the report, seeing the man drop dead, is all circumstantial evidence. No direct testimony can be had, because no one saw what did the killing."

Judge Longenecker then gave an outline of the evidence to be presented against the suspects as mentioned yesterday.

Counsel for the defense waived their right to address the jury and the work of examining witnesses was then begun, the examination of the State being conducted by Mr. Ingham and that of the defense by Mr. Forrest. The prosecution at once set out to prove the corpus delicti, it having been asserted that the defense would contend that the body dragged from the catch basin had not been satisfactorily identified as that of Dr. Cronin.

Ex-Capt. Francisco Villers, a nervous little Frenchman with sparkling eyes, was the first witness. He had known the doctor for three years and identified the body the instant he saw it. James Boland, who met the doctor every day for a year and a half; Joseph C. O'Keefe, a tailor who made Dr. Cronin's clothes, and Reporter James P. Holland, were also positive that the body was that of Dr. Cronin. Barber H. F. Wisch, who used to shave the doctor and who saw him one hour before his fatal ride, swore that there was no doubt in his mind as to the identity of the corpse he saw in the Lake View morgue. Stephen Conley identified the body by the front teeth, Maurice Moris by the agnus dei and Joseph O'Byrne by the broken finger of the right hand.

Henry Rosch told the story of the finding of the body and its removal from the catch-basin. The cross examination was designed to show the wounds in the head were caused during the latter operation, but this the witness strongly denied.

Court then adjourned over night.

DEADLY DUEL WITH KNIVES,

A Mexican and an Italian Carve Each Other in Settling a Difficulty.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 25.—In Toas county, New Mexico, last Saturday morning an Italian settler named Wankinson and a wealthy Mexican cattleman, Juan Verega, who occupied adjoining ranches and had long been mortal enemies, decided to meet at break of day for a duel to settle their differences for all time. Instead, however, of adopting the regular dueling rules and style of fighting the two men agreed to use butcher knives, and each one was to submit his hand to the other alternately to allow the cutting off of one finger after another until one of the other of the men should evince signs of pain, when the more nervy man was to stab his less opponent to the heart. The Indian won the toss of the coin and secured the first cut. Deliberately taking the hand of his enemy with a quick stroke he severed the forefinger. The Mexican never uttered a sound. The Indian in turn held out his hand and off came his thumb. So the frightful duel continued until each man had lost four fingers. Then just as the Indian was about to cut off the forefinger of the Mexican's left hand the second of the Mexican becoming frightened lest his principal should give way from loss of blood drew a revolver and shot the Indian through the heart. Everything possible has been done for Verega, but he can hardly survive. The authorities propose to prosecute the parties concerned to the full extent of the law.

ATTACKED BY MASKED ROBBERS.

Desperate Encounter With Highwaymen in Indian Territory.

TAHLEQUAH, I. T., Oct. 25.—A desperate attempt was made at noon today by three masked men to rob Col. R. B. Ross, treasurer of the Cherokee nation. He was returning home from town, a mile distant, with a large amount of money on his person when three masked men, each carrying a Winchester, attacked him. Col. Ross is a powerful man, and after a desperate struggle succeeded in breaking away from his assailants and escaping. He returned to town and reported the occurrence. A posse of 200 volunteers immediately started in pursuit of the robbers, but up to the present time have not captured them. If they are caught they will be dealt with summarily.

SENT TO JAIL FOR NOTHING.

Two Negroes Perjure Themselves and Convict an Old Man of Arson.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Oct. 25.—In March last John Addison, a negro 70 years old, was tried and convicted in Barnwell county of arson. Addison was sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary. The witnesses for the prosecution in the case were Addison's son-in-law, Samuel Green, and his daughter.

Green's corn house had been burned, and he and his wife testified that they saw Addison set fire to it. He was convicted by a jury of his own people. Since the trial some white men interested themselves in Addison's behalf, and the matter was brought to the Governor's attention. He caused an investigation to be made and the following facts were brought to light: Addison had purchased from Green thirty acres of land and had paid him in full. Green refused to give him any receipt for the money or a title for the land, and hoping to get rid of the old man he set fire to his own corn-house and with the help of his wife fastened the crime on the old negro. The Governor yesterday pardoned Addison after he had served seven months' imprisonment.

VIGILANTES TO ORGANIZE.

Efforts to Rout Midnight Marauders in Louisiana.

TRINITY, La., Oct. 25.—A number of the best citizens of this section of Catahoula parish have decided to organize a vigilance committee for the protection of the negro laborers of the parish against nightly raids of armed bands of white and colored men, who have been visiting the various plantations and searching by armed force houses of laborers, threatening and attempting the lives of the tenants, and shooting at them upon the public highway while in pursuit of their daily avocations, to the detriment of the public good and the good of the people of the parish. An indignation meeting will be held at Jonesville, Oct. 29, to adopt means for the protection of the people against these armed bands.

EPISCOPALIANS ADJOURN.

End of the General Conference at New York.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—In the Episcopal convention the proposed canon on deaconesses was adopted. The report of the committee on canons in reference to the petition of foreign churches regulating matters of detail in reference to the government of the church was also approved. The report of the committee on the petition of the colored clergy was then taken up and after a warm debate, the majority was adopted.

In the afternoon session the report of the joint committee on canons of ordination was read and referred to the convention of 1892. The report of the committee on amendments to the constitution as to proportionate representation was read, and a motion that the committee's report recommending no changes in the present system of representation be adopted was carried by a large majority. At this point the secretary announced the adjournment of the house of bishops and the impracticability of the further transaction of business. Several subjects were therefore put over until 1892 and the convention after the reading of the pastoral letter adjourned sine die.

Western Unitarians.

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—At the closing session of the Western Unitarians a paper by the Rev. A. M. July of Davenport, Iowa, on "The Church of the Isolated," read by the Rev. George A. Thayer of Cincinnati, O., was discussed by the Rev. T. A. Sticer of Providence, R. I., and several others. The Revs. Crooker, Snyder, and July were appointed a committee to send reports of the convention to the western conferences. The work accomplished by the convention was chiefly that of proposing a general league or association of the various missionary bodies now at work in the West to work in connection with the American Unitarian association.

Universalists in Session.

LYNN, Mass., Oct. 25.—In the Universalist meeting the report of the committee on elections recommending that the Rev. Dr. Henson be admitted as representative of the Universalist church in Glasgow, Scotland, was presented. The petition of the California Universalists for fellowship in the general convention was granted. The Sunday school commission report by Dr. Adams, of Chicago, recommending that steps be taken to strengthen the social side of schools, was referred.

Church of Christ Missionaries.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 25.—At the sessions of the Foreign Missionary society of the Church of Christ various committees reported and much business was transacted. The society resolved on the ample support of its present missions in India, China, Japan, England, Turkey, and Scandinavia, and the establishment of new missions according to opportunity.

Iowa Baptists.

DES MOINES, Iowa., Oct. 25.—In the Baptist State convention the following officers were elected: President, the Hon. A. J. McCrary; vice presidents, the Revs. C. H. Strickland of Sioux City, and J. J. Powell of Cedar Rapids; missionary secretary, F. H. Smith; Sunday school secretary, the Rev. F. N. Eldrige; treasurer, E. E. Lewis.

Methodist Women Missionaries.

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 25.—The second day's proceedings of the Methodist Woman's Missionary society consisted in revising reports of officers and committees. Some interesting reviews of the work were given, the most noteworthy of which was that of Miss Gheer of Altoona, Pa., who has labored for eight years in Japan.

Horrible If True!

THE PANT FIEND AT WORK.

(PUCK.)

Oh, lives there, heaven, beneath the dread expanse,
One wretched man who calls his trousers "pants?"
I asked myself this thing the other day.
(And stole the language, partly, by the way.)
And then I vowed if there was one in town
I'd catch him in the act and shoot him down,
I met a man when just beyond my gate
And stopped him, saying: "Will you kindly state
Whether among your friends, you just now chance
To think of one who calls his trousers pants?"
"Why, yes, he said, "I've just now left a man
Who always does." "Describe him if you can."
I cried. "He has grey-colored pants"—he said
I drew my gun and filled him full of lead.
Then, smiling gleefully at what I'd done
I hurried on to catch the other one.
But my description being incomplete
I thought to inquire of those I chanced to meet.
"Good friend," I said to one who came my way,
"Have you just met a man with trousers grey?"
"Grey pants?" he said; I shot him through and through,
And laughed aloud as up the street I flew.
A butcher stood beside his little shop,
I asked, "Did that man with grey trousers stop
About your place?" He laughed and said: "I seen
Some men with grey pants on which do you mean?"
I chased the scoundrel through the open door
And made him bite the sawdust on the floor.
I hastened on, and though I could not find
The one particular fiend I had in mind,
I did do noble work, I fired and fired.
And slaughtered pants fiends, until very tired,
I turned toward home. My shirt was wringing wet,
My coat was torn, my pants—

Peculiar

To itself in many important particulars, Hood's Sarsaparilla is different from and superior to any other medicine.

Peculiar in combination, proportion and preparation of ingredients, Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses the full curative value of the best known remedies of the vegetable kingdom.

Peculiar in its medicinal merit, Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes cures unheard of before.

Peculiar in strength and economy—Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of which can truly be said, "100 doses one dollar." Medicines in larger and smaller bottles require larger doses, and do not produce as good results as Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Peculiar in its "good name at home"—there is more of Hood's Sarsaparilla sold in Lowell, where it is made, than of all other blood purifiers.

Peculiar in its phenomenal record of sales abroad, no other preparation has ever attained such popularity in so short a time. Do not be induced to take any other preparation. Be sure to get

THE WORK OF WRECKERS

A FAST EXPRESS ON THE WABASH DITCHED.

Several Persons Hurt—Injured in the Quinte Disaster—Destructive Blazes —The Casualty Record.

WABASH, Ind., Oct. 25.—The fast eastbound passenger train on the Wabash road was wrecked last night at Keller's Station, five miles west of this city. There is a heavy grade at that point and the train was running forty miles an hour when Engineer George King saw that the switch was partly open. He immediately applied the air brakes, but there was no time to check the train. The engine and baggage and express car left the track and plunged along the siding for about forty rods. The engine turned over and the baggage car was hurled down the embankment, a distance of thirty feet.

The engineer and fireman, Charley Dixon, clung to their places in the cab, which was reduced to splinters, being telescoped by the baggage car. The smoker, chair car and sleeper kept the track, but they were all raked by the engine in passing and were considerably damaged, the front end of the smoker being carried away in striking the engine. Some of the passengers were slightly injured, and their escape was certainly miraculous. One man was seated in the front end of the smoker and was hurled backward by the blow which carried away that part of the car.

Engineer King was pulled out of the cab by the fireman, whose collar-bone was broken. King was badly bruised. A deadhead fireman named William Hutchins of Logansport was injured. Pacific Express Agent Frank Browell of Toledo was found under a big pile of trunks, together with Baggage-Master Gerhart Myers. Both men were badly injured. The car is a total wreck. An investigation showed that the switch lock had been broken by train wreckers, the bowlder with which the lock was pounded being found close by.

BRAVERY OF HER LITTLE SON.

How Johnny Anderson Comforted His Mother at the Quinte Disaster.

KINGSTON, Ont., Oct. 25.—It is now feared another name will have to be added to the list of those burned on the steamer Quinte. George Robinson, of Picton, Ill., was to have taken the boat for that place last evening, and nothing can be learned of him. The injured are: Capt. Christie, terribly burned about the face and hands; Engineer Short, face and hands burned; Miss Anderson, lady's maid on the boat, badly bruised and otherwise injured; Mr. Hart, of Belleville, hand cut; Col. Strong, United States consular agent at Belleville, slightly injured while jumping from the boat; A. St. Charles, of Belleville, badly chilled while in the water.

The hull and machinery of the burned steamer will be raised, as she lies in about four feet of water. Miss Kellar is suffering intensely, the flesh being almost entirely roasted from her hands. Mrs. Anderson's little son Johnny is the hero of the disaster. While clinging to a rope by the side of the burning boat he cried out: "Hang on, mamma, and we will be all right," frequently repeating this to encourage his mother.

FOUR MEN KILLED.

Terrific Explosion in Montreal with Awful Results.

MONTREAL, Que., Oct. 25.—A terrific explosion of dynamite occurred in St. Jean Baptiste ward this morning killing four men, fatally injuring several others, and wrecking all the houses in the vicinity.

Dynamite, which was to be used in blasting for the new drains, ignited in a blacksmith's shop. The explosion was tremendous and was felt all over the city. It caused great excitement among the Second Adventists, who are looking for the end of the world today or tomorrow. The killed and wounded were all French-Canadian laborers.

FELL THROUGH A TRESTLE.

An Engine Drops Twelve Feet—Narrow Escape of the Trainmen.

READING, Pa., Oct. 25.—As the Reading railroad shifting engine was running into the yard of the sheet mill of the Reading Iron company yesterday, the trestle gave way, and the locomotive fell with a crash a distance of twelve feet.

The jar caused the throttle to open wide, which caused the drivers to revolve with great rapidity, while a number of broken pipes emitted a cloud of steam. Engineer John Fabor and Fireman Morgan Bonsman went down with the engine, and both marvelously escaped with their lives, though they were dangerously bruised and scalded.

HE DIDN'T MIND IT.

Clements Ralston Falls Ninety-Three Feet and Shows Up Smiling.

BEAVER, Pa., Oct. 25.—The Pittsburg & Lake Erie Company is renewing the channel span of their bridge over the Ohio here. Clements Ralston, one of the workmen, while helping to unload a car, was jerked over the side of the bridge. He caught on a telegraph wire, which helped to arrest his fall. He fell ninety-three feet into twenty inches of water, and, wading out, presented himself on the bridge again to continue his work.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT A BOY.

Thomas Meehan While Fooling With a Revolver Pulls the Trigger.

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—By the careless handling of a 32-caliber revolver Louis Heidt, a boy 12 years old, was shot and seriously wounded last night at his home, 3739 Dearborn street. Louis and a comrade, Thomas Meehan, a son of Officer Meehan of the Harrison street station, were examining the revolver when young Meehan cocked the weapon and pulled the trigger. The ball struck Heidt in the left shoulder and ranged downward.

A Destructive Blaze.

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—A fire that quickly spread through the whole building burst forth at 2:10 o'clock this morning in the three-story and basement structure at the corner of Fulton and Clinton streets. The building is occupied by three firms, P. N. Kohlsaat, manufacturer of tanks; Scott & Hauge, iron work manufacturers, and G. B. Floher, pattern maker. But little except the shell of the building was left when the last sparks were extinguished. The loss is about $25,000, equally divided between the three firms, while the insurance is about $7,000. T. W. Scoville owns the building, which suffered a loss of about $5,000.

Killed by an Explosion.

WATERVILLE, Maine, Oct. 25.—At 7 o'clock this morning the gas house of the Lockwood cotton mills exploded, blowing out the entire front of the building and lifting the roof. The structure took fire and was consumed. Henry E. Washburn, the workman in charge, perished in the flames. Several passers-by narrowly escaped serious injury. The cause of the explosion is unknown. The loss is $4,000.

FIVE BLOCKS BURNED.

The Business Portion of the Town of Sheffield, Iowa, Destroyed by Fire.

MASON CITY, Iowa, Oct. 25.—The business portion of Sheffield is now in ruins. Near midnight Wednesday smoke was seen issuing from the oil room at the rear of W. E. Nichol's drug store. In a few moments the flames leaped from the building, and, being fanned by a strong wind, all the adjacent buildings were enveloped. By heroic exertions part of the town was saved. The total loss is estimated at $60,000, covered by about $12,000 insurance. The burned district covers five business blocks.

Fatal Runaway Accident.

NEWBURG, N. Y., Oct. 24.—By a runaway accident at Marlborough this morning the wife of Robert J. Dickey, a Milton druggist, was killed; her mother, Mrs. Murray, was seriously hurt, and Mr. Dickey severely but not dangerously injured.

Disastrous Fire.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., Oct. 25.—The business portion of Felt's Mills, a thriving village on the Black river, nine miles from here, was destroyed by fire last night. The total loss is about $23,000; insurance about $15,000.

Wreck Near Houston, Tex.

HOUSTON, Tex., Oct. 25.—A freight wreck occurred yesterday on the Houston & Texas Central railroad about forty miles from this city. Conductor M. H. Allen was instantly killed and Brakeman D. Cameron fatally injured.

WANT THE DUTIES REMOVED.

Demands of the Interstate Wheat Growers' Convention in Session at St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 25.—In the interstate wheat growers' convention Robert Lindblom, the Chicago wheat speculator, made a speech, in which he gave the speculators' side of the wheat question. He said the monopolists had taught society a lesson that would in time make monopoly an impossibility. That lesson was the lesson of co-operation. The lesson taught by trusts was co-operation. It was intended as a blessing to monopoly. It will end in being a blessing to humanity. Mr. Lindblom said he was brought up to believe that wheat on the great lakes at $1 per bushel was as good as a government bond, but in four years it never went as high as $1 until last year, when it touched $2 for a minute, because of "Old Hutch," and he was as much surprised as anybody. He believed that at fairly high prices more grain could be sold than at low prices. There was no foundation for the cry about overproduction.

President Colman then addressed the convention from a free trade standpoint, denounced the way the farmers are used by the present administration and the protective policy, and said that the only way to protect their interest was to adopt free trade. The committee on resolutions presented the following:

"Resolved, By the farmers of the States lying in the Mississippi and Missouri river valleys and of the states of Oregon, Washington and California, in national convention assembled, that we hereby memorialize our National Congsess and the President of the United States and most seriously petition them to make such reciprocity treaties with those foreign nations to whom we ship our surplus farm products as will cause such foreign nations to remove the custom duties from our farm products shipped abroad, thereby causing us to receive a higher price for our foreign farm surplus and thereby fixing a higher price upon all that we sell at home."

A very animated debate followed, which was decidedly political in character. The free-traders greately outnumbered the protectionists and the resolutions were finally adopted by a large majority.

During the afternoon a permanent organization to be known as the Interstate Wheat-Growers' association was formed, with N. J. Colman as permanent chairman. Among other resolutions adopted was one requesting Superintendent of Census Porter to collect data to show in the next census what percentage of the people in this country occupy their own homes and what percentage are tenants. The remainder of the afternoon was devoted to desultory political debate in humorous strain, and the convention finally adjourned sine die.

ROYAL ARCH MASONS.

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—The fortieth annual convocation of the Grand chapter of Royal Arch Masons of Illinois met Thursday morning in the Masonic rooms in the Adams Express building. There are 350 grand officers and representatives attendant upon the session. S. O. Spring of Peoria, grand high priest, presided, and delivered the annual address in which he congratulated the chapter upon the flourishing condition of the order within the State. The Hon. Wiley M. Egan of Chicago read his report as treasury, showing a balance of $13,000 in the treasury, and this was followed by the report of the grand secretary, Gil W. Barnard. An election for officers was held, resulting as follows:

Grand high priest, Joseph E. Dyas, Paris; deputy grand high priest, E. C. Pace, Ashley; grand king, Jacob Krohn, Freeport; grand scribe, Richard T. Higgins, Vandalia; grand treasurer, W. M. Egan, Chicago; grand secretary, Gil W. Barnard, Chicago; grand chaplain, Rev. J. L. Waller, Centralia; G. C. G., J. W. Hutchinson, Greenfield; G. P. S., William L. Milligan, Ottawa; G. R. A. C., George M. Moulton, Chicago; grand master, third veil, Frederick Winslow, Jacksonville.

During the meetings of the grand commandery and chapter the sum of $1,500 was appropriated for the benefit of the Illinois Masonic orphans' home.

The New Postage Stamps.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25. — Postmaster-General Wanamaker has awarded the contract for furnishing adhesive postage stamps for four years to the American Bank Note company of New York, the lowest bidder. The award was made for stamps of a reduced size, the new stamps being about one-eighth smaller than those in present use. The designs will be changed. The 1-cent stamp will continue to be printed in blue; the 2-cent, now printed in green, will be printed in bright carmine, and changes will be made in some of the other denominations.

Appointments to Office.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—The President has made the following appointments:

Edward T. Green, United States district judge for the district of New Jersey; Alfred E. Buck, United States marshal for the northern district of Georgia; Joseph W. Ady, United States attorney for the district of Kansas; Albert M. Lee, United States attorney for the southern district of Mississippi; David F. Kronacher, commissioner of deeds in the State of Ohio for the district of Columbia.

Herculean Strength

Continually on the strain, or overtaxed at intervals, is far less desirable than ordinary vigor perpetuated by rational diet and exercise, and abstention from excess. Professional pugilists and athletes rarely attain extreme old age. As ordinary vigor may be retained by a wise regard for sanitary living, and for the protection against disease which timely and judicious medication affords, so also it may be lost through prolonged sedentary labor, uninterrupted mental strain, and foolish eating and drinking, the chief and most immediate sequence of all four being dyspepsia. For this condition thus, or in any way induced, and for its offspring, a failure of muscular and nerve power, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the primest and most genial of remedies. Not only indigestion, but loss of flesh, appetite and sleep are remedied by it. Incipient malaria and rheumatism are banished, bowel and liver complaint removed by it.

"THE GREAT CORN PALACE."

The committees that have in charge the arrangements for the coming Corn Palace at Sioux City, promise a display fare exceeding anything of the character heretofore attempted. The Corn Palace itself, built entirely of corn and grain, will fitly illustrate the agricultural resources of the vast area of country tributary to Sioux City, and the internal displays will epitomize the progress and enterprise of the hosts of earnest workers who are pushing the developement of that favored region in which "Corn is King."

To enable all to vist this "Eighth Wonder of the World," the Chicago & Northwestern Railway will sell Excursion tickets to Sioux City at half rates or one fare for the round trip.

The Corn Palace will be open September 23d, and close October 5th, and during that period numerous special trains will be run for the accommodation of visitors.

Tickets and full information can be obtained on application to agents of the Chicago & Northwestern Railway Company.

Interested People.

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam for Coughs and Colds does is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it a sample bottle free, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles are 50c. and $1.00. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption.

MICHAEL DAVITT SPEAKS.

HE ADDRESSES THE PARNELL COMMISSION.

The Irish Nationalist Talks for His Country—Yellow Fever in Brazil—News From Other Lands.

LONDON, Oct. 25.—The Parnell commission resumed its sittings to-day. Mr. Joseph Biggar, member of Parliament for West Cavan, who appeared in his own behalf, addressed the commission. When Mr. Biggar had finished Mr. Davitt spoke. He said that in addressing the commission he was running counter to the opinion of the people of Ireland, who indorsed the withdrawal from the case of Mr. Parnell and his colleagues. Mr. Davitt said that he was impelled to the course he had adopted by the two cardinal principles of his life—religious adherence to truth and justice and the defense of the character and cause of the Irish peasantry. He declared that, although he was no longer a Fenian, if the condition of Ireland was as it was twenty-five years ago he would again be a Fenian. Some of the aims of the Fenians, he said, had been already fulfilled. The Land league, based on the same patriotic spirit, was fast removing the barriers which prevented Great Britain from granting justice to Ireland.

At the very time the Fenian outrages were being committed, said Mr. Davitt, the Manchester trade commission was in session, and evidence was given before it showing the worst kind of outrages at that place, for which no one was ever brought to justice. The speaker denied the statement of Pat Delaney, the convicted dynamiter, who was brought from Ireland to London to testify for the Times, that the amnesty movement was under Fenian control. Mr. Davitt accused Delaney of willful and deliberate purjury. No agent, he declared, had done more to keep alive the national antipathy of the Irish in America than the brutal language made use of by the Times with regard to the extermination of the people of Ireland by the great famine.

Mr. Davitt will probably occupy the time of the commission for several days, as he proposes to enter into an exhaustive review of the events which led up to the peculiar political situation in which Ireland is placed to-day. Although it is said that Mr. Davitt in appearing before the commission at all is acting counter to the wishes of Mr. Parnell there is reason to believe that in the preparation of his speech Mr. Davitt had the assistance of Mr. Parnell and many of his followers. The Tories charge that Mr. Davitt is guilty of a piece of willful deception in stating in the opening of his speech that his appearance before the commission was without the approval of his colleagues.

Yellow Fever in Brazil.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.— Rear-Admiral Gillis, commanding the South Atlantic squadron, reports that yellow fever is breaking out in various parts of Brazil besides the city of Rio de Janeiro. "Commencing so early," he says, "even before the advent of warm weather, this would indicate an unusually sickly season, and I would strongly urge that, unless circumstances arise rendering the presence of one of our vessels imperatively necessary, none be permitted to visit the infected ports of Brazil this year."

NEW YORK A WINNER.

The Fifth Ball Game in the Championship Series.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—The fifth game in the world's championship series was played at Washington park, Brooklyn, before only 2,901 persons. The weather was cold and windy. It was "do or die" with the Giants, and the way they played would have beaten any team. Score:

New Yorks.....0 0 4 0 4 0 0 2 1—11

The series now stands: Brooklyn 3, New York 2.

IT WAS A GAME FIGHT.

Jack Hopper Whips Jack Hanley in a Twenty-Five Round Contest.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 25.—A boxing contest took place last evening between Jack Hopper of New York and Jack Hanley of Buffalo, both middle-weights, for a purse of $500. Hopper weighed 130 pounds and Hanley 128. Both were in good condition. The contest was with two-ounce gloves, twenty-four three-minute rounds, with five rounds to follow in case no decision could be made. The fight opened tamely. Hanley forcing it from the start. In the twelfth round he got first blood and in the twenty-third knocked Hopper under the ropes.

The twenty-fourth round ended gamely, Hanley and his seconds claiming a foul, which was disallowed. The referee called for five more rounds. In the first set-to Hanley was struck on the neck and rendered helpless, the fight being awarded to Hopper. Hanley's friends will appeal from the decision. Time, 1:49.

On the Turf.

Bt Chicago the winners were Harry Faustus, Prophecy, Lena A, McMurtry, and Quotation.

At Lexington, Ky., first money was taken by Tommy R, Camilla, and Sportsman.

At Linden Park, N. J., Manola, Macbeth II, Lavinia Belle, St. John, Flitaway, and Glory were first at the wire.

WISCONSIN'S DOUBLE TRAGEDY

Kellermann, the Watertown Wife-Shooter, Blows His Brains Out.

WATERTOWN, Wis., Oct. 25.—The tragedy enacted in this city yesterday morning had its sequel to-day. Louis Kellermann, the would-be wife murderer, killed himself this morning about 7 o'clock by shooting himself with the same revolver with which he shot his wife. The tragedy occured in the hay-loft of his mother's barn, where he had laid concealed since the shooting of his wife.

A Scrap of Paper Saves Her Life.

It was just an ordinary scrap of wrapping paper, but it saved her life. She was in the last stages of consumption, told by physicians that she was incurable and could live only a short time; she weighed less than seventy pounds. On a piece of wrapping paper she read of Dr. King's New Discovery, and got a sample bottle; it helped her; she bought a large bottle, it helped her more, bought another, and grew better fast, continued its use and is now strong, healthy, rosy, plump, weighing 140 pounds. For further particulars send stamp to W. H. Cole, Druggist, Fort Smith. Trial bottles of this Wonderful Discovery free at F. Sherer & Co's.

FANCIES OF FASHION.

PREVAILING MODELS IN FEMININE HEAD-GEAR.

Velvet the One Necessity of the Stylish Bonnet—Black Is in Much Favor for Both Dresses and Hats—Pretty Models Illustrated—Fashion Gossip.

THE POPULAR TOQUE.

THE COMING winter will be a season of riotous colors, if the display of fall millinery is any indication of what is to adorn the head feminine during the next few months. All nature has been ransacked for shades or suggestions. Many odd colors are masquerading under new names, and a good many new ones attest the success of the dyer's experiments. It would require a specialist to make anything like an accurate distinction between the innumerable shades, not to mention fixing the proper name to each, and milliners themselves are obliged to fall back upon their color-cards.

There is unbounded latitude in the matter of material, and any one who has a knack for fashioning her own hats may levy upon cherished relics of former days with the easy assurance that it would be impossible to go amiss. Ribbon, silk, cord, embroidery, gold and silver lace galore, jet, tips, buds, wings—all are in favor, and there appears to be only one requisite—no matter what else is used velvet is an indispensable adjunct, if not indeed the main feature, in the construction of any hat or bonnet, whether elaborate or simple.

There is no radical change in bonnet shapes this season, nor in hats except that there seems to be no golden mean between very small or very large ones. The favorite capote remains in vogue with sufficient variation in brim or crown to warrant special names. The velvet strap, which was so becoming to thin or round faces, young or old, has given way to more elaborate ties, which may be brought forward and used as such or left hanging from the back. A decidedly novel shape, whether hat or bonnet it would be difficult to say, and which but few women can wear with good effect, is one with upturned brim at the sides, somewhat similar to the English walking hat, and with a bonnet crown drooping from the back to rest upon the hair, which of course should be worn rather low. A hat of this style was in black felt with an indescribably odd trimming, and was decidedly stylish, if rather bizarre in effect.

A FAVORITE STYLE.

Toques have come into more favor again—if they have ever been really out since their first appearance years ago—and are very similar to the Turkish shape which was popular before the Langtry had its day. There is this difference, however; Instead of being set far back to cover the head to the nape of the neck they are now worn well over the forehead, resting squarely on the top of the head. A pretty, simple hat of this kind and an example of the harmonious effect possible with a skillful use of an unusual combination had a soft crown of golden brown velvet with a twist of ruby velvet wound around about the edge and forming at the front a large puff against which a large, gray bird spread its wings.

A MODERN DIANA.

Black hats are extremely fashionable and will undoubtedly be much worn through the winter. Nearly all women have known the value of such hats for general utility and it seems as if a great many were awakening to the fact that an artistically made hat entirely of black gives a peculiarly chic appearance to the wearer that no color, however effective, can equal. These hats are made of various materials, brightened perhaps with jet and given due character by means of birds, quills, or aigrettes.

Fetching little hunting caps are among the fall exhibit, and since the sport has taken such a firm hold upon athletic maids costumes are now devised with an eye to beauty as well as utility, and the nineteenth century Diana goes forth to slay the elusive prairie chicken, or whatever else happens to venture within range of her rifle, more fascinatingly clad than when she seeks hearts as prey at the midnight cotillion.

A pretty street costume may be made of moire and ladies' cloth as follows: Plain skirt, slightly full sleeves, collar and pointed revers of moire; long, straight, full drapery and body of cloth; the bottom of the drapery is finished with rows of fine mohair braid stitched on flat; the skirt is drawn slightly up at one side; the bodice is close-fitting, has a flat postillion, is curved over the hips and forms rounded points in front; the upper portion of the vest is of lace, the lower portion of shirred silk; the cuffs are of the cloth and finished with small buttons. Small bonnet of shirred silk, with trimming of roses and leaves.

STREET COSTUME.

A more youthful walking gown is of striped velvet and Bengaline. The skirt is of Bengaline; the long front slightly draped to one side; wide panel of the stripe with one edge finished with folds of plain goods and small buttons; the body has sides of the stripe, and back and front of the plain goods with a guimpe of crepe de Chine; plain sleeves with cuffs finished with large bows of ribbon. Hat of fine braid; brim rolled up at the back; trimming of ostrich plumes.

YOUNG LADY'S GOWN

One of the most effective combinations and one which frequently appears is brown and white. A pretty hat of this kind is of brown felt in English walking shape, with bands of brown and white ribbon about the crown and bows of the same colors mingling with white wings rising stiffly from the front. The very severity of this hat accentuates the style, but it could be becoming only to a face of pronounced character or beauty.

Still another stylish costume for the street is of plain and checked suiting. The front of the skirt and the long, narrow vest of the check; draped polonaise of the plain goods; the fronts are slightly draped, the body is finished with a deep yoke and plain collar, which are edged with narrow braid; sleeves plain at the shoulders and very slightly full at the elbows; ribbon sash with loops and ends. Wide-brimmed hat of fine straw trimmed with ostrich plumes. Two yards of check and eight yards of plain suiting are required.

SIMPLE AND STYLISH.

For the house striped suitings are plain and narrow. A pretty model has the striped back of skirt in the side plaits; the plain front has plaits at one side and a square, plain edge at the other; the back of the body is plain and in tailor fashion; the front is plain, with a draped section of the goods outlining a long pointed vest of the striped material; collar of plaitings of the stripe; leg-o'-mutton sleeves with cuffs of the striped goods; bands of narrow galloon finish the folds on the waist, the apron drapery, and the cuffs.

BACK AND FRONT.

An afternoon gown for a young lady may be quite elaborately made of plain and fancy surah and lace. The skirt has a gathered front and back of lace over the plain silk; the edges of the lace sections are finished with wide folds of fancy surah; the waist and collar are also of the fancy goods; the wide cuffs are of lace over the silk; the upper portion of the sleeves are in side plaits, as is also the narrow V-shaped vest; flat folds of surah are set on either side of the vest from the shoulder seam to the waist line and extend below the waist line in front, forming small points; ribbon belt with rosette bow and ends at the back. Twelve yards of plain surah, three yards of fancy silk, and three and one-half yards of lace flouncing is required.

HOUSE GOWN.

Recently completed for a young lady is a charming reception gown of faille and lace. Plain skirt, close-fitting body, elbow sleeves, and straight, high collar of the faille; side drapery over the waist, draped apron, and plaited back of skirt of the flouncing; the sleeves have trimming of the lace gathered in at the shoulders and extending down over the sleeves to the elbows, where it forms a deep fall below the outer edge of the sleeves; the edge of the skirt, the collar, the front of the body, and the points on the sleeves are trimmed with very small drops.

RECEPTION GOWN.

Fashion Chat.

Sash bows in the back are much worn.

The rage for silver in all forms is unabated.

A new device in silver pencil-cases is a tree stump.

It is said that miniature paintings set as brooches are in high favor.

Bands of kid, embroidered with fine gold and steel beads, are seen among the new trimmings.

Among the recent productions in buckles comes a heart-shaped device formed of twisted silver wire.

Feather trimmings will be used in every imaginable way, especially marabout feathers and uncurled ostrich plumage.

Open work gold embroidery and velvet are used in the composition of the Venetian toques, one of the prettiest millinery novelties of the incoming season.

Birds and parts of birds, heads, wings, quills, ostrich tips, aigrettes, and all manner of fancy feathers were never used so profusely as now. Scarcely a hat or bonnet is exhibited without some kind of a feather.

Among the new shades that will be popular are the mulberry, a greenish gray, heliotrope, and amethyst. Black and white will be fashionable for evening wear. Gray and white have had their day in combination, but brown in all shades will be much worn.

The collarless bodice now in vogue for home wear has created a demand for neck ornaments and jewelers are displaying exquisite little neck chains with daisy or mignonette pendants enameled in natural colors; also gold beads and necklaces of all kinds.

All bodices are made round, with just enough elongation on the hips to be able to span a belt around and a little below the waist. Belts of all kinds are worn, and great taste and show can be displayed in the choice of buckles. Happy is the lady now who has antique ones.

Skin on Fire

Agonising, itching, burning and bleeding Eczema in its worst stages. A raw sore from head to feet. Hair gone. Doctors and hospitals fail. Tried everything. Cured by the Cuticura Remedies for $6.

Cured by Cuticura

I am cured of a loathsome disease, eczema, in its worst stage. I tried different doctors and been through the hospital, but all to no purpose. The disease covered my whole body from the top of my head to the sole of my feet. My hair all came out, leaving me a complete raw sore. After trying everything I heard of your Cuticura Remedies and after using three bottles of Cuticura Resolvent, with Cuticura and Cuticura Soap, I find myself cured at the cost of about $6. I would not be without Cuticura Remedies in my house, as I find them useful in many cases, and I think they are the only skin and blood medicines.
ISAAC H. GERMAN, Wurtsboro, N. Y.

Burning and Itching

I was sick in the fall of 1888 with a burning and itching so bad that in three weeks I was covered with a rash, and could not sleep nights or work days. Some doctors thought it might be salt rheum (eczema), and said they had never seen anything like it before. I received no help from any of them, or from any medicine I could get hold of until I tried your Cuticura Remedies. After three weeks' use I was able to work, and kept getting better, until I am now entirely cured. I recommend them to all suffering with skin diseases.
C. E. OSMER, Taftsville, Vt.

Most Intense Itching

I have used the Cuticura Remedies successfully for my baby, who was afflicted with eczema, and had such intense itching that he got no rest day or night. The itching is gone and my baby is cured, and is now a healthy, rosy-cheeked boy.

TO MONTANA, OREGON AND WASHINGTON.

If you are going west bear in mind the following facts: The Northern Pacific Railroad owns and operates 987 miles, or 57 per cent. of the entire railroad mileage of Montana; spans the territory with its main lines from east to west: is the short line to Helena; the only Pullman and dining car line to Butte, and is the only line that reaches Miles City, Billings, Bozeman, Missoula, the Yellowstone National Park and, in fact, nine-tenths of the cities and points of interest in the territory.

The Northern Pacific owns and operates 621 miles or 56 per cent of the railroad mileage of Washington, its main line extending from the Idaho line via Spokane Falls, Cheney, Sprague, Yakima and Ellensburg, through the center of the territory to Tacoma and Seattle, and from Tacoma to Portland. No other transcontinental through rail line reaches any portion of Washington Territory. Ten days stop over privileges are given on Northern Pacific second class tickets at Spokane Falls and all points west, thus affording intending settlers an excellent opportunity to see the entire territory without incurring the expense of paying local fares from point to point.

The Northern Pacific is the shortest route from St. Paul to Tacoma by 207 miles: to Seattle by 177 miles, and to Portland by 324 miles—time correspondingly shorter, varying from one to two days, according to destination. No other line from St. Paul or Minneapolis runs through passenger cars of any kind into Idaho, Oregon or Washington.

In addition to being the only rail line to Spokane Falls, Tacoma and Seattle, the Northern Pacific reaches all the principal points in Northern Minnesota and Dakota, Montana, Idaho, Oregon and Washington. Bear in mind that the Northern Pacific and Shasta line is the scenic route to all points in California.

Send for illustrated pamphlets, maps, and books giving you valuable information in reference to the country traversed by this great line from St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth and Ashland to Portland, Oregon, and Tacoma and Seattle, Washington, Territory, and enclose stamps for the new 1889 Rand McNally County map of Washington Territory, printed in colors.

CUPID'S WORK.

THE MARRIAGE OF MR. FRED J. MYHR AND MISS MATTIE D. BLAKELY.

That was a most happy gathering of friends at the new home corner of Glen and Augusta streets, last evening. The occasion was the marriage of Mr. Fred. J. Myhr and Miss Mattie D. Blakely. The event has been looked forward to by many for some time. During the summer the groom had been preparing a home for his loving bride, building and furnishing a beautiful house at the above location, and last evening it was duly dedicated by the marriage of the host and hostess. The ceremony took place at ten o'clock, and was witnessed by about one hundred specially invited friends. The Rev. S. P. Wilder, pastor of the Congregational church officiated, the bride and groom being unattended. The happy words being spoken which united the young couple as husband and wife, congratulations were showered upon them, followed by a sumptuous wedding feast served in the upper rooms.

The bride and groom were more than kindly remembered by their many friends, which was attested by the large number of rich and useful presents displayed.

Mr. Myhr is a son of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Myhr, and for some time past has been foreman of the news department of the Daily Recorder; he first learned the printing trade in the Gazette office, and for a time published a daily paper at Pierre, Dakota, returning to Janesville entered the employ of the Recorder Company. He is an industrious and upright young man, making friends with all. His bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Blakely, Glen street, and is a bright and cheerful lady, possessing the necessary womanly characteristics to make her home one of cheer and happiness. Mr. and Mrs. Myhr are now at home, where the best wishes of a large number of friends will be extended to them.

THE CENTURY.

REMINISCENCES OF THE AMERICAN STAGE.

Joseph Jefferson's Autobiography, which is to begin in the next number of The Century Magazine, will contain, as may be expected, a great many reminiscences of the early days of the American stage.

Of the elder Booth, Mr. Jefferson says: "He would saunter into the theater just a few minutes before the play began; robe himself, sometimes quite carelessly, converse freely upon local matters in a plain, practicable way, or perhaps give some reminiscence of by-gone years,—his memory was wonderful,—ending with amusing anecdotes, and in the next moment walk upon the stage in the full assumption of his character, overawing the audience by the fire of his acting. The following incident will serve to show the wonderful manner in which Booth could drop his character and instantly resume it.

"I was acting Sampson in 'The Iron Chest' to his Sir Edward Mortimer. During the play he spoke to me of my grand father's playing the same part with him when he (Booth) was a young man. He used,' said he, 'to sing the original song; it ran thus:' and assumed a comical expression he began to sing in an undertone:

A traveler stopped at a widow's gate.

At this moment his cue was given and he rushed upon the stage, discovering Witford at the chest. The scene is here very powerful, and I never saw him act it with more power. The audience was most enthusiastic, and as he rushed from the stage amid a storm of applause he met me at the wing, and, resuming the comic expression on his face, began the song just where he had left off, while the approbation of the audience was still ringing in his ears."

If you want to engage in a good paying business, see me at once.
D. CONGER.

He Proved His Case.

"Human nature is mighty queer, isn't it?" he observed to the other man on the rear platform of the street car.

"Yes, I suppose so," replied the other.

"People are too sensitive—altogether too sensitive."

"I don't know about that."

"Well, I do. For instance, now, you have a red nose. You are not to blame for it, perhaps, but you are so sensitive that if I should offer you a remedy for it ———"

"You old loafer, I've a good mind to knock your head off," hissed the red nose man as he squared off.

"Told you so," replied the other as he dropped off. "Human nature is the queerest durned thing on earth, and some folks are so sensitive that they'd swallow their false teeth rather than let any one know they had 'em."

Dr. B. MINCER, the eminent optician of Detroit, Mich, will visit every town in this county during the summer. Any one suffering with weak eyes, or eyes abused by inferior glasses, should not fail to see him. Orders left at the post-office will be promptly attended to. No extra charge for examing or visiting patients at heir homes.

OUR CITY GOVERNMENT.

The Durand Sale Ratified by the Common Council.

A NEW TRUCK PURCHASED.

A Special Committee Appointed To Visit Chicago and Purchase the Truck.

A special meeting of the common council was held last evening at the council chamber, His Honor, Mayor St. John, in the chair, and all the aldermen answered to the roll call except Alderman Horn, Norris and Rowe.

Duputy City Clerk M. Murphy kept the records.

Mayor St. John stated that the special meeting had been called for the purpose of taking action on the sale of fire apparatus to the city of Durand, and to procure a new hook and ladder truck for this city.

Ald. McLean, chairman of the committee on fire and water, informed the council of the visit of the mayor of Durand a few days ago; that a proposition had been made to him to the effect that the city of Janesville would sell the Silsby fire engine, the hook and ladder truck, a hose cart and coal cart for the sum of $1,800, throwing in the old heater. He then sent to the clerk's desk the following letter, which was read:—

DURAND, Wis., Oct. 23, 1889.

J.B McLean:

DEAR SIR.—The council met last evening and decided to buy the engine, hose cart, hook and ladder truck, with coal cart, heater, and the other articles specified in your contract and talk with Mr. Osterreigher.

Mr. Osterreigher says you were willing to change the terms to accommodate, and the council wants to pay the $1,800 in three equal payment in May of each year. That will give you all the money in two years and six months from this time.

You can ship what is ready at once, and send Mr. Bauman, in four or five days after shipment. Send hose cart, etc., when painted and repaired.

We well execute the notes at next meeting, which comes the 5th day of November. Or, would you prefer city orders, made payable with interest, and due as above?

Send us 500 feet of hose, so that we can made a good trial and exhibition. Mr. O. says he made an arrangement about hose, but not quite so much.

Yours truly,
W. H. HUNTINGTON,
City Clerk.

At the request of Ald. McLean the written proposition made to the Durand authorities, as drawn by City Clerk Doe and signed by Ald. McLean as chairman of the committee, was read, all of which appeared to be very satisfactory to the members of the council.

Ald. McLean—I move that the action of the committee in the sale of the fire engine, hook and ladder truck and hose cart to the city of Durand, be ratified by the council.

The motion was adopted by a unanimous vote.

Ald. Baker moved that the fire and water committee be authorized to paint the hose cart and make the necessary repairs to the hook and ladder truck before shipment. Adopted.

Ald. McLean then brought up the question of purchasing a new hook and ladder truck, stating the action of the last council; that several committees had visited Chicago for the purpose of examining the different styles of trucks. They had witnessed the operation of the truck built by E. B. Preston & Company, and by the Chicago Fire Extinguisher Co., and also of the Bangor Ladder, and a report had been made to the council, unanimously in favor of the purchase of the Preston truck, that being considered the best for the city. Among the advantages of this truck are the extension ladder, and being about one thousand pounds lighter than the other, besides being several hundred dollars cheaper. He thought the council could do no better than to accept the proposition of the Preston Company.

Ald. Baker thought it best to re-open the case and let this council investigate trucks. He did not think it just the right thing to be governed wholly by the action of the last council; there were several new members here now who knew nothing about that investigation, and they desired to be informed before voting on such an important question He did not wish to make a motion, but would suggest that a special committee be appointed with the chief engineer, to visit Chicago and purchase a truck.

Ald. Jackman knew nothing whatever about the former negotiatons, and did not wish to vote on the question until he was informed. He favored the suggestion made by Ald. Baker. He did not wish to dispense with the present truct until a new one was procurred.

Ald. McLean informed him that the old truck would not be sent away until the new one was secured.

The clerk read the proposition made by the Preston Company last March, to furnish the city one of their modern trucks—weight 5,000 or 5,800 pounds, at a cost of $2,575—fully equipped, the city to be allowed thirty days for trial.

Ald. Thoroughgood did not want to show too much haste in this matter. He was in favor of a new truck, but thought it would be better to have more fire escapes on our large buildings, in which case the department could get along with a lighter and cheaper truck.

Assistant Engineer Spencer, in the absence of the chief engineer, was asked regarding the merits of the trucks. Mr. Spencer stated that there was no difference of opinion between chief engineer Blunk and himself in regard to the truck best suited for our department. One of the strongest points was to get the lightest truck possible with the necessary and best equipments. Many of the members of this council had seen the different styles of trucks and ladders. Ald. McLean had frequently explained the workings of the so-called aerial or extension ladder on each truck—all giving the Preston ladder the preference. Some points of the Extinguisher truck excelled the Preston, but all-in-all the Preston was the lightest, the cheapest and the ladder far excelled the others.

An alderman asked Mr. Spencer how many men it required to raise the Preston ladder. Mr. Spencer replied—"When in Chicago last spring with Ald. Fathers and Chief Blunk, I saw a fifty foot extension ladder raised in the Preston shops by one man. Chief Blunk did it. Of course he is a powerful man—a strong man. A ladder such as is proposed for over city would require three or four men to properly handle it and send it right up. Let me say word in regard to fire escapes mentioned by Alderman Thoroughgood. Two escapes have just been placed on the Smith block which are of no use whatever to the fire department in case of fire. They are put up just to evade the law, or to conform to law, and are located in an out-of-the way place in the rear of the building, when to be of use, they should be placed on the front. This is the fault with several other escapes placed on buildings in this city. They are of no use to the fire department, for the reason that they are so located that they cannot be reached easily with a line of hose.

Ald. Conrad desired to be informed about the expense of preparing the west side house to accomodate the new truck.

He was informed by Alderman McLean that it would not cost one hundred dollars. Chief Blunk had estimated the cost, and did not think it would cost fifty dollars. Very little work was required.

The question was pretty well discussed, there appearing to be no opposition to the immediate purchase of a new modern truck.

Ald. Baker—Your Honor, I now move that the mayor appoint a committee of three, with the chief engineer, to visit Chicago at their earliest convenience to negotiate for and purchase a new truck.

The motion was unanimously adopted.

The mayor appointed as such committee Alds. Baker, Jackman and McLean.

The council adjourned.

TESTING THE "CATARACT."

MILWAUKEE'S FIRE BOAT—A FOUR-INCH STREAM OF WATER THROWN 419 FEET.

A partial test of the fire boat Cataract was made yesterday afternoon, says the Milwaukee Sentinel, and the result was satisfactory. The new boat was not tested to her fullest capacity, owing to the fact that one of her pump valves became loosened, necessitating a cessation of operations. Shortly after 2 o'clock the Cataract left her dock near the East Water street bridge and proceeded to Ald. McCoy's dock, just north of Grand avenue bridge. There a large party of members of the Chicago fire department, Mayor Brown, aldermen and city officials were awaiting to embark on the new boat and witness a test of her water throwing power. The Cataract steamed down the river to Benjamin's dock, just south of the shipyard, where she was moored. The aldermen and city officials amused themselves by playing tag while the boat's crew got the Cataract ready for the test.

The large stand-pipe was first used with a 4-inch nozzle, a stream was thrown a distance of 419 feet, both pumps being used. A 3-inch nozzle was then placed on the stand-pipe and the stream was thrown 403 feet, both of the Cataract's pumping engines being worked. The starboard pump, "Deluge" was then put in operation alone, and threw four 2-inch streams a distance of 212½ feet. The port pump was then started and threw the four streams 200 feet. Both pumps were again placed in operation and two 3-inch streams were sent a distance of 376 feet. One 2½-inch stream was thrown a distance of 325 feet. A strong wind was blowing from the southeast at the time, consequently the performance of the Cataract can not be considered as her best. But for the accident to the pump valve the spectators would witnessed the sight of fourteen one and one-half inch streams being thrown from the boat at once. A beautiful rainbow was formed on the streams that were ejected from the huge standpipe. When the firemen were handling the four 2-inch streams, some of the mischievous aldermen set the large marsh on fire, and soon the flames shot high in the air and burned rapidly. One of the streams was turned on the fire, and the blaze was extinguished in less than a minute, thus convincing the aldermen that the Cataract can put out a real fire. The party that came up from Chicago consisted of the following gentlemen: D. J. Swenie, fire marshal; C. S. Petrie, assistant fire marshal; Robert Nicholson, engineer of the Geyser; J. J. Swenie, the fire marshal's son; Thos. E. Miller, shipbuilder; De Witt Stevens, of "Fire and Water;" Charles F. Elmes, builder of the Cataract's engines. Another test will be made of the Cataract's pumps in a few days. Accidents to the valves of fire boats during their test are common, and it took several months before a complete trial was made of the Geyser, Chicago's fire boat, which has proved such a success that the city is building an additional one.

IN A DREAMLESS STUPOR.

Remarkable Case of Herman Harms, Who Sleeps Nearly All the Time.

In the little town of Attica, Minn., lives Herman Harms, aged 52. Twelve years ago in southwestern Illinois Harms was troubled with fever and ague. While the fever was on him he lost his reason, but when the fever left him his mind was restored, but each attack left him weaker than before. In 1877 he was advised to go to Minnesota. The fever returned after a couple of years and for five years he slept. For a time he was an inmate of Rochester asylum, but still he slept, and the physicians were unable to arouse him. Eight years ago he rose and appeared full of energy. On May 12, 1884, however, he felt the stupor coming over him, and again he slept for three years. Doctors were summoned but could do nothing. At the end of three years Harms again rose, but was so weak he was merely able to totter. He remained awake only a few months when the stupor came upon him, and he has been asleep now for nearly two years and is gradually sinking.

"This sleep, as near as I can make it out," said Dr. Clark, a physician of St. Charles, near Attica, "is a dreamless one, and I do not think he is in a trance, because his respiratory and digestive organs—in fact, all unconscious activities of his body—seem to be in good order. I am led to believe by all the symptoms that he is simply in a state of dreamless stupor. Practically he is dead."

Some of the villagers believe that there is a curse upon the family and predict that Mrs. Harms will not outlive her husband. A few weeks ago her little child died and three months before her oldest child hanged himself.

Pita, the recently discovered remedy for hydrophobia, is the name given to the flower stalk of the aloe, a plant common in some parts of Spain. It is said that the virtues of the plant were discovered through accident. A man in the frenzy of hydrophobia fell upon an aloe plant and unconsciously gnawed at the stem until the fit passed from him. He recovered almost immediately.

The German Emperor carries his fondness for variety into his kitchen, and even his bread is never served him in the same way at two consecutive meals. Thus he takes for breakfast a small white loaf, the top of which is powdered over with salt, and which, accordingly, goes by the name of salt-bun. Its cost is one penny. After it he consumes a half-penny bun, known as the "Luccaeye." For his sandwiches he requires yet another kind of bread made of the finest Vienna flour and baked till the outside, which is afterward cut off, is quite black. Price, one penny. At dinner, with the soup, so-called "broth-sticks" are served. They are made after an Italian recipe, which is the secret of the court bakers, and their value is a half-penny apiece.
